

Abstract

A container for an immunologic assay in which the saturation adsorption of molecules for use in the assay is 1×10^{-1} pmol/cm² or lower. The container is free from non-specific adsorption causative of reagent loss, sensitivity decrease, and precision decrease.